

CARLISLE ISSUES

A CALL FOR GOLD

THE FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT HAS BEEN MADE.

The Issue Is to Be $50,000,000, "Redeemable in Coin," Interest to Date From November 1—Fifty Dollars to Be the Smallest Denomination of the Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Last evening the secretary of the treasury issued the following formal call for bids for another issue of $50,000,000 of 5 per cent bonds:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Nov. 13, 1894.—By virtue of the authority contained in the act of congress entitled an act to provide for the resumption of specie payments, approved Jan. 14, 1875, the secretary of the treasury hereby gives public notice that sealed proposals will be received at the treasury department, office of the secretary, until 12 o'clock noon Nov. 24, 1894, for United States 5 per cent bonds, in either registered or coupon form, dated Feb. 1, 1894, redeemable in coin at the pleasure of the government after ten years from the date of their issue, and bearing interest, payable quarterly in coin, at the rate of 5 per cent per annum.

Bidders whose proposals are accepted will be required to pay 20 per cent in gold coin or gold certificates upon the amounts of their bids as soon as they receive notice of the acceptance of such bids, and to pay in like coin or certificates an additional 20 per cent at the expiration of each ten days thereafter until the whole is paid; but they may at their option pay the entire amount of their bids when notified of acceptance or at any time when an installment is payable. The first payment, however, of not less than 20 per cent must be made when the bidder receives notice of the acceptance of his proposal.

The denominations of the bonds will be $50 and upwards, and bidders will in their proposals state the denominations desired, whether registered or coupon, the price which the bidder proposes to pay, the place where it is desired that the bonds shall be delivered, and the office, whether that of the treasurer of the United States or an assistant treasurer of the United States, where it will be most convenient for the bidder to deposit the amounts of his payments.

The bonds will be dated Feb. 1, 1894, in order to make the proposed issue uniform as to date with existing issues; but interest thereon will begin Nov. 1, 1894, and bidders will be required to pay accrued interest at the rate of 5 per cent on the face value of their bonds from Nov. 1 to the date or dates of payment. The total issue of bonds, in pursuance of this notice, will not exceed the sum of $50,000,000.

The secretary of the treasury hereby expressly reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

All proposals should be addressed to the secretary of the treasury, Washington, D. C., and should be distinctly marked "proposals, purchase of 5 per cent bonds." Blank forms for proposals may be had on application to the secretary of the treasury.

J. G. CARLISLE, Secretary of the treasury.

The new call is substantially a copy of the one issued last February, except that no upset price is named. An official of the treasury is responsible for the statement, however, that all bids will be rejected which do not result in a net rate of 3 per cent. But little doubt is expressed of the ability of the government to float the bonds without difficulty at that net rate. There is more gold in the banks of the country now than in February, but on the other hand the gold stock in New York, where the banks will be expected to take most of the bonds is now only about $100,000,000 and some doubt is expressed whether the banks there could be induced to draw out half their stock without resorting to the subtreasury. Treasury officials hope to secure substantial bids from cities outside of New York. At the time of the last issue a considerable amount of gold was withdrawn from the subtreasuries for the express purpose of using it again in paying for the bonds. The exact amount thus withdrawn can not be ascertained, but the best knowledge obtainable is that it approximated $15,000,000. The cash balance in the treasury yesterday was $103,758,986; gold reserve, $62,001,106.

Six Mills Per Mile. CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—About two months ago the general managers of the western roads resolved to make the rate of mileage paid for freight cars not to exceed six mills per car per mile run, loaded and empty, from and after Nov. 1, 1894. This action was subject to concurrence on the part of the central traffic and trunk line association roads. The Central Traffic association at a meeting held in Cleveland Oct. 25 concurred in the recommendation of the western roads and the trunk lines, including those in New England, likewise acquiesced at a meeting held in New York Nov. 2, 1894.

STRANGLED TO DEATH.

Denver Flood Adds Still Another Victim to His List.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 14.—"Strangler's row" was the scene of another murder yesterday. About 1:15 o'clock 1975 Market street was visited by the fiend whose strange hobby is to choke women to death; and when he left Kiku Oyama, a Japanese girl who ran the place, was a corpse, with the marks of the strangler's work upon her throat. The murder of yesterday was committed in the same row of houses in which Lena Tapper and Marie Contassoit were strangled. The mode of her death, too, was exactly similar. After partially choking her the job was completed by tying a towel around her neck and tightening the noose until life left her body. The only difference between Kiku Oyama's murder and the strangler's other job is that she was discovered while her pulse was still beating and breath yet in her lungs. Kiku Oyama was twenty-four years old and emigrated from Japan to Chicago with the representatives of her native land to the Columbian exposition. There she made the acquaintance of Imi Oyama, and together they came to Denver last November. Imi Oyama says he was the dead man's cook, but the neighbors say he lived with her as her husband. He was the first person to enter the Japanese girl's room after her death.

Judge Vandivert convened court an hour before the regular time in order to frustrate the would-be lynchers. The boys are 17 and 19 years old.

Bandits Unable to Enter the Express Car But they Managed to Rob the Passengers and Escape—No Clue to the Dead Kansas Bank Robber's Identity.

PORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 14.—Train No. 2, south-bound on the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad, was held up and robbed at 10:10 o'clock last night at a little siding named Blackstone, five miles north of Muskogee. There were fifteen men in the gang, all masked. The switch was thrown and the train run into a sidetrack on which were several box cars. An attempt was made to enter the express car, but it was unsuccessful. The robbers then commenced robbing the passengers, who up to this time had been merely kept under guard. Two hundred and sixty dollars and eight gold watches were secured. The robbers then withdrew. One of the train crew claims to have recognized Bill Cook as one of the bandits. The fact that more money was not secured was owing to the passengers hiding their valuables while the robbers were endeavoring to get into the express car. The scene of the holdup is in the midst of the Cook rendezvous. Almost the entire force of Marshal Crump is now up in the country and can go to the scene of the raid in a few hours if so ordered.

From a description of the dead bandit he has no recollection of ever having seen him. The police here are working on the mystery.

MINDS BENT ON PEACE.

Congress of Conciliation and Arbitration Opens at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The congress of industrial conciliation and arbitration under the auspices of the industrial committee of the Civic Federation was opened at 10 o'clock yesterday morning in Willard hall. Morning, afternoon and evening sessions were held. Many prominent labor leaders and representatives of corporations were present. At the morning session Lyman J. Gage, president of the Civic Federation, presided. Speakers during the day were Lyman J. Gage, Prof. E. R. L. Gould of the Johns Hopkins university, who spoke of the "History of Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration in Europe and Australia," Joseph B. Weeks, editor of the American Manufacturer and Iron World, who deprecated arbitration as a means of settling strikes.

At the afternoon session Judge William A. Vincent, chairman of the committee on the congress, presided. The first speaker on "Arbitration in Railroad Affairs" was James Peabody, editor of the Railway Review, who spoke in defense of the attitude assumed by railway corporations and other large employers of labor. He saw no need of state interference.

The chairman next introduced Congressman W. M. Springer, who spoke on "The Springer Bill." He favored, as the only effectual means of preventing industrial conflicts, a spirit of justice between man and man. Compulsory arbitration he did not think would be effective.

The chairman then introduced Congressman James A. Tawney of Minnesota, who spoke on the same subject and held practically the same views.

At the conclusion of Mr. Tawney's address, the chairman called for a five minutes impromptu address from Judge Tuley, who said as his principal argument: "I believe that if you would enlist your railroad men as you enlist your soldiers, for a definite time, and forbid their quitting except on certain notice, it would tend and probably entirely prevent railroad strikes."

The evening session met at 8 o'clock, with Rev. Dr. J. H. Barrows in the chair. The first speaker was Josephine Shaw Lowell of New York, who spoke on "The Distinction Between Arbitration and Conciliation." She denounced compulsory arbitration as absurd. At the conclusion of Mrs. Lowell's paper the chairman announced that the committee in charge of the congress, the speakers who have already addressed the congress and those who are yet to do so, would meet before the morning session to-day to discuss the matter of whether some proposition should be submitted to the country or to the government as coming from this congress with reference to conciliation and arbitration. Mr. Joseph D. Weeks, editor of the American Manufacturer and Iron World, thought labor troubles would in time regulate themselves without state interference.

Prof. E. W. Bemis of the University of Chicago spoke on "The Ethics of Arbitration." He took the ground that some action which would stop the present unrest and prevent the loss of life and property which at present occur during a strike was absolutely necessary, or the disruption of the country would ensue.

DOLLARS LIE THICK IN DEALERS' TILLS

JANESVILLE MERCHANTS ARE DOING GOOD BUSINESS.

They Are Getting an Immense Trade From the Country Although City Buyers Are Comparatively Few—Judicious Advertising Is the Cause of the Rush to Stores.

The merchants of Janesville generally say that the fall trade of 1894 is better than they have had for years, and in the next breath they will tell you that they don't know how to account for it, because the trade from city people is light, and many laboring people who are usually liberal buyers, are out of employment, and their trade is necessarily small. This great volume of business is coming from the country and is the direct result of judicious advertising.

This statement will be questioned by some people, and laughed at by others, but it is nevertheless true. A gentleman and his wife stepped into a clothing store just as the proprietor was starting for dinner last Thursday.

The head of the family said: "We live down near Beloit and buy all our goods there; this is the first time I was ever in a clothing store in Janesville, and I don't want any goods now, but I have read your advertisement, and I want to look around."

He looked around and left forty dollars before he went out. While he was being entertained, other people came in from the country. The proprietor left his dinner, but he had eighty dollars in the till as the result of individual work between 12 and 1 o'clock.

The next day a similar occurrence happened at a clothing house on the west side.

Big Trade in Shoes

One shoe house sold last Saturday $439.00 worth of goods, mostly to the country trade. The merchants of Janesville are advertising this year, as they never advertised before. Some of them are spending from $75 to $100 a month with the Gazette alone, and the increase in business is very apparent. The benefits derived are both direct and indirect. The man who spends the most money is entitled to the largest results, but every line of trade is indirectly benefited.

The farmer who drives a dozen miles to buy clothing, very naturally looks over the dry goods and other markets, and if he sees bargains, is not slow to pick them up.

The Daily Gazette has been published as an eight page paper for a number of months. It circulates from 1,500 to 1,600 papers every evening and carries more advertising than any paper of similar size in the state.

The Weekly Gazette is also an eight page paper sent out to every nook and corner of Rock county every Wednesday and Saturday morning. If the merchants of Janesville could go out and personally solicit trade it would be very effective advertising. As this is not possible The Gazette is the next best medium, and it is so considered.

SYMPATHY FOR MRS. CADWALLADER

Wife of the Sentenced Banker Lives By Taking in Sewing.

Much sympathy is expressed by Janesville people for Mrs. A. A. Cadwallader, wife of the Superior banker, who was sentenced yesterday to five years in prison for embezzlement. While here she took in sewing for a living and is now doing the same thing at Madison. Her husband decided to plead guilty after long deliberation, he having passed through a protracted legal battle since his arrest. He is about thirty-eight years of age, and came to Wisconsin from Pennsylvania and organized the Superior National bank. On April 23, 1892, he was charged in an indictment of thirty counts, with "embezzling, abstracting, and wilfully misapplying the funds of the bank." His attorneys demurred, on the ground that the indictment was bad for the reason of duplicity. The demurrer was sustained by the court at the April term 1893.

Another indictment was then drawn but held back. A third indictment was found consisting of thirty counts and charging general misapplication of funds, abstraction and embezzlement. He was tried on the charges in the spring term of the court, 1894, the jury disagree in their verdict, standing eight to four for conviction. The attorneys for Cadwallader were John C. Spooner and A. L. Sanborn of Madison and S. N. Dickinson of Superior. The prosecuting attorneys were United States District Attorney Samuel Harper and his assistant J. J. Fruit.

On the trial it was shown that Cadwallader had not received any personal gain by the money he obtained. It was found that the bank was organized through his efforts and that he carried a large amount of the stock for others who were interested and agreed to take stock and that all experienced difficulty in making payments on stock. The banking law provides that before a National bank can do business there must be 50 per cent. of the capital stock paid up and thereafter 10 per cent. of the unpaid balance must be paid in until the whole is paid. Some did not do this and Cadwallader thought the bank would lose its charter.

He had made arrangements with eastern parties for "killing" checks. Two of these checks were protested and Cadwallader had to pay them through a misunderstanding. He was instructed to draw a draft for $1,000 to take up the two protested checks used in "killing." The proceeds of this draft he used to pay these checks.

In December, 1892, while out on bail, Cadwallader, who was followed by detectives, went to Brazil, where he secured a position in a commercial house. He was later brought back and has been in jail since. He pleaded guilty, it is reported, with the expectation of being pardoned out and it is said a strong effort to effect this will be made soon. He took his sentence philosophically and did not seem much depressed. He had not made up his mind until yesterday. In the absence of his attorney, John C. Spooner, James K. Kerr acted. Cadwallader will be taken to Milwaukee tomorrow. His wife and two children have been living in Madison since his confinement. Mrs. Cadwallader has been doing sewing to support herself and family.

JOHN KELLY LEAVES FOR NEW YORK

Has Several Offers from Eastern Horsemen, Any of Them Good Ones.

John Kelly, the noted driver, leaves for New York to-day to make arrangements for next season's work. He has had half a dozen offers from eastern parties, but has not yet decided upon which one he will accept. The trip to New York is for the purpose of looking the ground over, and probably before he returns his plans will be formulated. Mr. Kelly's work with Directum, 2:05; Director's Flower, (2) 2:20; Direct, 2:05; Flying Jib, 2:04; Little Albert, 2:10; Charles C., 2:14; San Pedro, 2:14; Margaret S., 2:12; and all the rest of the Salisbury stable, is all the recommend he needs.

RUNNING THE CARS IS NOT EASY

Damp Heavy Snow Obstructs Them Worse Than Anything Else.

Perhaps you think running a street car line in the winter is one continuous whirl of joy but that's where you are mistaken. It takes muscle and patience as well as brains and ingenuity. Heavy damp snow is about the hardest thing to fight and two cars are generally coupled together in order to make any sort of headway in moving over the obstructed track. The forward car clears the rails of snow sufficiently to allow the wheels of the rear car to adhere to the tracks, and thus give propelling power to move over the drifts.

BAD MR. SAMPSON WELL KNOWN HERE

NOTORIOUS CHICAGO THUG WAS IN ROCK'S JAIL.

He Was One of the Gang of Four that the Local Police Locked Up for Picking Pockets At a Picnic Held in Mole's Grove Last Summer.

A man who has slept in the Rock county jail is "Major" Simpson, the Chicago thug who is wanted for alleged complicity in the murder of Election Judge Colliander, at that city. Officer Hogan knows Simpson well, and he was one of the four toughs that the police gathered in at the picnic in Mole's grove last summer. He is a bad man and one that the police "pick up" on general principles wherever he is found. His right name is William J. Sampson and he first became known to the Chicago police when he was brought in by Officers Myers and Wiley December 31, 1885, charged with larceny. He was then 23 years of age and it was then that his photograph was added to the collection in the Rogues Gallery. Since that time he has been at the head of a gang of pickpockets and confidence men that have worked state and county fairs all over the country. Like "Clabby" Burns who is also wanted, he has always been successful in escaping the penalty for his crimes. So far as known he has no penitentiary record. He came into prominence at the time of the Cronin trial as one of the witnesses. He then announced his willingness to testify that Dan Coughlin had offered to hire him to kill Dr. Cronin. When in Chicago he always has made his headquarters on the North Side in Inspector Shaack's district.

He is the ringleader of the notorious market street gang and one of the men whom the Chicago police are "unable to find." The others are "Clabby" Burns, "Jack McCagney, Barney Birch and John Bingham.

It Hits the People and Is Free.

Every ailing and suffering person who is wise will instantly accept this generous offer. Coming from the very highest authority, as it does, gives it the greatest weight, and people know when they see a good thing like this. Everybody knows of Dr. Greene, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases, of 35 West 14th St., New York City. His successful system of treating patients through letter correspondence is attracting great attention. All you have got to do is this. Write him a letter about your complaint, tell him how you feel, and he will answer it, giving a thorough explanation of your case and telling the surest way to get well.

He gives most careful and explicit attention to every letter, and explains your case so comprehensively, that you understand immediately exactly what ails you, and just what to do for yourself. And for this he makes no charge. He is also the discoverer of that remarkable medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. This splendid offer is being taken advantage of by thousands, and they are getting well. The very best thing you can do, reader, is to write the doctor immediately, it will cost you nothing, and it will probably be the means of making you well and strong. Don't delay until it is too late, but write now.

Food For Thought.

A certain lady in this city did not think we overheard the following conversation yesterday, but we did, and the lady, when she reads this will say we have told the exact truth. Her conversation ran thus: "I went down town about 3 o'clock yesterday, went into Bort, Bailey & Co's. and waited about half an hour and could not get waited upon. I then went into another dry goods store not far away, to wait until the crowd would get out of Bort, Bailey & Co's. I sat in the other store about an hour, visiting with the clerks, three or four of them standing there talking to me all the time. I then went back to Bort, Bailey & Co's. and found the crowd greater. I tried to go through the crowd from one entrance to another but had to give it up and go out at the door I entered, without being waited upon, but I will return again today. I want some of that $1.00 Arnold Henrietta they are selling for 50 cents a yard and I will get it if I have to wait twenty times. It is the best I ever saw for the money—regular $1.00 goods." Little did this lady know she was telling her friend something that we would use and an excellent story in our favor. Thanks.

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

Warren's Great Farm.

Ex-Senator Warren's ranch in Wyoming covers an area of 75 by 100 miles, and is stocked with 2,000 horses, 15,000 cattle and 120,000 sheep. The extreme length of Rhode Island is 50 miles and her extreme breadth is 35 miles, her entire area being 1,250 square miles. The area of Mr. Warren's ranch is 7,500 square miles, and it is, therefore, just six miles as big as Rhode Island. But let us not make haste to turn the laugh on little Rhode. The Warren ranch lacks but 615 square miles of being as big as Massachusetts; it is bigger than Connecticut and two Rhode Islands put together and nearly four times as big as Delaware.

DEAD ON A LOUNGE

MRS. E. S. GREEN LAY.

AGED WOMAN CALLED WHILE ALL ALONE.

Ever Since the Death of Her Husband, Rev. Mr. Green She Had Lived By Herself Contrary to the Wishes of Relatives Who Feared Something of the Kind.

EVANSVILLE, Dec. 14—Cold and rigid in death Mrs. E. S. Green was found lying on a sofa at her home on Church street yesterday by Miss Emma Bigelow. From the appearance of the body the physicians think death must have taken place twenty-four hours before she was found. Mrs. Green, since the death of her husband, Rev. Green, had resided alone contrary to the wishes of her many friends and relatives who feared that at her advanced age something of the kind might happen.

TEMPERANCE PLAY AT SHOPIERE.

Big Audience Saw a Good Performance—Bridge Matter Not Decided.

SHOPIERE, Nov. 13—On the evening of Friday last the drama entitled "Under the Spell" was presented in Fraternity hall before a large audience. The piece was well rendered, and each of the cast in their respective roles merits especial mention. Seldom, if ever have we enjoyed an amateur entertainment so well. On Saturday last occurred the election at La Prairie town hall to determine if it would be necessary to commence work on the town line bridge. It was decided not to commence at once, at least not by any official authority of the town of La Prairie. Now that La Prairie refuses to build a bridge, why not pool the earnings of the Tiffany creamery and erect a toll bridge? Only one voter from Turtle cast his ballot in favor of the bridge.

ABOUT WEDDINGS.

Something For Expectant Brides to Read and Observe.

Betrothal rings were used by the Greeks, and at the present day they are used in the east as well as in the west as pledges of affection.

Leap year, it appears, is due to the enterprise of the canny Scotch lasses. In the year 1288 a statute was published by the Scotch parliament ordaining that during the reign of "her maist blessit majestie Margaret" every maiden and lady of high and low estate should have liberty to speak to the man she liked. If he refused to take her to be his wife, she should have the privilege of fining him $100 or less, according to his estate, unless he could make it appear that he was betrothed to another woman, in which case he would be free to refuse. After the death of Margaret the women of Scotland became clamorous for their privileges, and to appease them another act of parliament allowed them to propose every fourth year.

The old custom of throwing an onion after a bride is doubtless well known. It had the same origin as the old Scotch custom of throwing a besom after a cow on its way to market--to avert the evil eye--and thus insure luck.

There are some things that a bride must remember. Her bodice must be high in the neck, her sleeves reach quite to her wrists, and her gown must fall in full, unbroken folds that show the richness of the material, and there must be very little suggestion of such frivolities as frills or ribbons of any kind.

The wedding gown illustrated is of white satin, made in princess style, with a long train. The right side of the skirt is ornamented with a knot of white moire and a piquet of orange flowers. The darts of the bodice are outlined with fine embroidery, and the corsage is cut square to show a guimpe of white mousseline de soie. A satin ruching borders the corsage, and the gigot sleeves are draped by piquets of orange flowers. JUDIC CHOLLET.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became a Girl, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

To "Suffer and Be Strong."

In other words, to exhibit fortitude when enduring bodily pain is, of course, praiseworthy, but sufferers from rheumatism would undoubtedly forego the praise which the exercise of this Spartan virtue calls forth, to obtain prompt and easy relief. It is at their very threshold in the shape of Hoste's Stomach Bitters, which arrests this formidable disease at the outset, and acts as an efficient anodyne upon the afflicted nervous system. Take time by the forelock if you feel rheumatic twinges, and give them a quietude at once. Rheumatism is reader, you may perhaps not be aware, liable to attack the heart. Many a man and woman with a heart thus attacked has promptly "shuffled off this mortal coil." The Bitters is also an excellent remedy for kidney trouble, malaria, constipation, debility, neuralgia, sleeplessness and dyspepsia.

Registration Official--I'll have to swear ye, miss. Take off yer bonnet. Young Woman--Wouldn't it do just as well, sir, if you would take off your hat?

Bob--Is your landlady a close charger? Harry--Well, I should remark. Whenever she wears a gown with leg-o'-mutton sleeves she puts it in the bin.

Chapley--It is easy enough to get married; all a man has to do is to find a bigger fool than he is. Ethel Knox--But in some cases even that would be rather difficult.

Head of Household--Alfred, dear, your biscuits are very good this morning. Young Husband, coloring with pleasure--I am glad to hear you say so. Head of Household--Still, they are not quite as good as papa used to make.

Cases of forty years standing where operations have failed have been cured by Japanese Pile Cure. Guaranteed.

Once a Pie Plate.

The stamp plate has a rival. Its foundation is an ordinary 5-cent pie plate, but when it is decorated one would never suspect its plebeian origin. Putty, put on the plate like pie crust, is the first step in its transformation. After the putty has been arranged on the plate in little ridges pieces of bright crockery or colored tile are placed between them. This must be done before the putty becomes hardened. After it is thoroughly hard--in about two weeks--it is gilded. Each piece of china then has the effect of being framed in gilt. It is well to have some striking bit of china for the center piece. The plate when completed need not cost more than a quarter.

The Just Fear of God.

"If we work upon marble, it will perish; if we work upon brass, time will efface it; if we rear temples, they will crumble into dust; but if we work upon immortal minds, if we imbue them with principles, with the just fear of God and love of our fellow men, we engrave on those tablets something which will brighten to all eternity."--D. Webster.

1831—Hegel, German philosopher, died; born 1770.

1854—Disastrous storm on the Black sea; 2 French line of battleships in the harbor of Balaklava wrecked and 8 disabled; 2 English ships driven ashore; outside the roadstead 22 transports were wrecked and 1,000 lives lost; value of shipping destroyed over $10,000,000.

1871—Violent snowstorm throughout the United States.

1890—John Louis Brown, a noted French painter of military subjects, died; born 1830.

REVIVAL OF BUSINESS.

From all parts of the country comes the cheering news that business is picking up. Mills that have been idle for months, and industries that have long been paralyzed are again resuming business, and while the season is too far advanced to expect the activity of former years, yet enough will be done to give employment to many worthy people, who have asked in vain for work during the past twelve months.

There is lame consolation for democrats, in the statement, "I told you so," and yet the fact is none the less apparent, that democratic policy and national prosperity never travel in the same class.

No one questions the honesty of purpose of the democratic party. That the party desires prosperity and faithfully works for it, along lines that seem plausible and right, is demonstrated by the persistence for which democracy is noted. The ten months of strife in the last congress over a principle that was supposed to be involved, indicates very clearly that democracy is very dull of perception, in testing the pulse of public sentiment.

"The people voted for tariff reform, and by the eternal they shall have it" seems to be the watchword of the party, and not satisfied with the bill that finally passed, the threat was made that the short session should be devoted to more radical reformation. This threat and the demonstrations of the working of the Wilson bill was the last straw that stood between democracy and overwhelming defeat.

The revival of business is the natural outcome. Employment of labor in the home market means more than the good will of all the foreign markets in christendom.

When the seventy millions people who make up the population of the United States, are all actively employed, ninety per cent. of the products of the country find a profitable market at home. When the conditions are reversed, as they have been for the past eighteen months, and enforced idleness characterized the nation, the home market suffers.

Every manufacturing centre and every hamlet contributes to prosperity or depression, and employment, is the barometer that never fails to indicate correctly the signs of the times. That they all point in the right direction now is plainly evident, and before the dawn of the new year under the impetus of restored confidence, the country will put on new life and with renewed vigor many disheartened people, who have begged in vain for work, will have the opportunity of again becoming producers and patrons of the home market, the best market for America that has yet been discovered.

The Gazette is a firm believer in the principles and policy of the republican party and points with satisfaction to the foundation of the structure, America for Americans, and protection to American labor.

THE STRIKE REPORT.

When President Cleveland appointed a United States strike commission last summer, the people of the country supposed that the great railroad strike was the principal subject for investigation. In fact, the instructions of the president were clear and explicit along this line.

The report published yesterday, as the result of several months' investigation reads like a college essay on free trade; all theory. Three-fourths of the entire report is devoted to the Pullman Company and General Managers' Association, and theoretical recommendations.

It reads like a proclamation from the American Railway Union, largely inspired by Debs himself, and its influence will do more to retard the peaceable settlement of labor disturbances, by arbitration, than all the good accomplished. The ending of the report leads to some doubt as to whether the country was demoralized from center to circumference last summer, as the result of depredations incited and encouraged by the American Railway Union.

The one redeeming feature, if it has any, is the recommendation for a permanent strike commission that shall be an ever ready tribunal to investigate and settle railroad and labor controversies, and establish better relations between employers and employees.

In the good time coming this will all be accomplished without government aid. The best antidote for strikes is employment. When the busy hum of industry fills the land with music, the notes of discord are lost in the great volume of harmony, and the great tide of humanity is peaceful and happy because of the independence that results from honest toil and well paid labor.

Mrs. Ellen J. Foster, whose work for the republican party in Colorado, was so effective during the campaign, has returned to her home in Washington. Mrs. Foster is a republican from principle and a tireless worker for the party.

GRAND, LOVELY, PERFECT.

Exclamations Made at: Holloway & Johnson's Sale—Greatest Rush This Season.

Fortune seems to favor the just. Yesterday the Lowell Hardware Co. bought the Holloway & Johnson bankrupt stock and advertised to open a sale of it this morning at 7 o'clock. Long before the time to open the doors, Midway was crowded. Long lines of people stretched away down the Plaisance, all faced toward the Holloway & Johnson doors, eager to get inside to get some of the bargains which are there. All nature seemed to smile as they crowded in, not a cloud was seen in the sky and as the dollars fell into the Lowell Hardware Co. "till" the people went away smiling for they had been given a dollar's worth for fifty cents in each and every instance. This stock must be sold by December 1 and the Lowell Hardware Co. will sell it. E. W. Lowell is not a person who will stand on ceremonies, when he buys a thing he knows he can sell it, and when he commences to sell everybody knows it. It is almost impossible to describe the scene that was exhibited there today. At times it seemed almost impossible to keep the people from suffocating. The general cry was: "Lowell, the hustler and slayer of high prices is closing out the Holloway & Johnson hardware stock and we are now buying stoves and hardware of all kinds at 50 cents on the dollar."

SAY HE MARRIED HIS NIECE.

Town of Center Man the Subject of Much Criticism by Neighbors.

Town of Center people are much wrought up over a marriage which is said to have been performed in May, the contracting parties being, they claim, a little too much related to each other.

The claim is made that the husband is an uncle to his wife; that is, he is a brother of his wife's father; or, in other words, he has married his niece. Just what will be done about it is not yet known.

MYRTA SAYS GEORGE BEAT HER OFTEN

SENSATIONAL DIVORCE CASE
NOW BEFORE THE COURT.

The Complaint Filed Recites Facts Unfit For Publication to Back Up Mrs. Bliss' Claim that She Should Be Freed From Her School Teacher Husband.

A SENSATIONAL divorce case is now pending in the circuit court, being that of Myrta Bliss against George R. Bliss. The parties have resided in several places in this state, the defendant being a school teacher. The plaintiff now resides in this county, and brings suit for divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment. The complaint was alluded to in the Gazette some days ago as being too vulgar and obscene to publish. The testimony of the plaintiff in regard to the cruel and inhuman treatment received at the hands of her husband, is in keeping with the complaint, the truth of which the defendant denies. The case was taken up yesterday, and was not concluded at a late hour this afternoon.

THERE are a good many cities larger than Janesville who cannot offer such opportunities in the way of lecture courses as this city does. The only way it is possible for the People's Lecture Course to offer five such attractions as it does for one dollar and come out even, is by the immense patronage they have. People realize the efforts that are being made to give them the very best that can be had at a minimum cost and they take advantage of it. Be ready with your dollar when the canvasser calls with tickets and so facilitate the work. Unless there is an unusually large sale of tickets this year the management are not going to make ends meet at the close of the season.

ARTHUR E. BADGER's fellow employees at the lower cotton mill raised a hundred dollars among themselves yesterday, which will be given to Mr. Badger, whose fearful injury, resulting in the loss of his arm will be remembered. He is a member of Florence Camp No. 366 Modern Woodmen of America and that lodge will also take steps to help him. His case is a sad and deserving one and probably every dollar that is raised will come in handy before the long cold winter is over.

THE Peoples Lecture Course never had a finer array of talent than appears on this year's course. From first to last the attractions are the very best that money could buy. A thorough canvass of the city is being made for the sale of tickets, so when the boys call be ready for them.

FIGHT OF LEAF MEN MAY BE SETTLED

THE GROWERS' ASSOCIATION WILL NOT DISBAND.

Annual Meeting Today Results In a Renewed Feeling of Confidence In the Success of the Organization and the Row About the Stock Will Probably End.

There is a marked change in the opinion of many members of the Rock County Tobacco Growers' Association in regard to the affairs of that corporation, and its dissolution is not probable.

Last week a caucus was held by a large number of stockholders who appeared more or less dissatisfied with the management, especially with the notices calling for the payment in full of stock. It appeared to be the sentiment of that meeting that the association should be wound up and that steps looking to that end would be taken at the annual meeting today.

There was a large attendance at the meeting this morning, the stockholders assembling in the large warehouse at the corner of Wall and Academy street. The officers were not ready to present their reports in full to the members, consequently an adjournment was taken until November 23, at 10 a. m., at which time the reports will be made public.

"There is a better feeling among the stockholders today," remarked one who had attended the court house caucus last week. "The reports will show the association in much better condition than may have been led to believe."

Affairs Not so Bad.

"There was a disposition manifested by many of the stockholders that the affairs of the association ought to be closed up and the corporation disbanded, and a move in that direction was anticipated. The reports, however, which we have been partially informed, put new light on the affairs, and show that the association is not in as bad shape as was supposed by some of us who were acting in ignorance. It may transpire that nothing will be done towards closing it up."

A number of stockholders expressed a like opinion, and it is now anticipated that the election of a new board of directors will take place at the adjourned meeting, and that the association will continue business at the old stand for at least another year if not longer. There was more than the usual interest manifested at the meeting today, nearly every stockholder being present in person, and all appeared satisfied to give the different officers time to complete their detailed reports, they being informed in regard to the main points each would contain.

THE GOVERNMENT SHOULD ACT.

To Punish Libelous Statements About World's Fair Awards.

A national law of libel would seem to be necessary. Such a law would prevent the wanton attacks which are being made upon successful competitors at the Chicago World's Fair.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder received the highest award at the fair. The award was for strongest leavening power, purity and general excellence. Proof of its bestowal is found in the official records as follows:

"NOVEMBER 25, 1893.—Price Baking Powder Company, Chicago: Replying to your favor of the 25th, will say that the records of this department show that the executive committee on awards officially announced some time ago that an award had been granted to the Price Baking Powder Company on its exhibit of baking powder. Yours very truly, J. S. BROWNING, Chief of Awards, Agriculture."

"WASHINGTON, (D. C.) February 14, 1894.—Price Baking Powder Company, Chicago, Ill.—DEAR SIRS: I herewith inclose you an official copy of your award, which in due time, will be inscribed in the diploma and forwarded to your present address, unless otherwise indicated by you. Yours, JOHN BOYD THACHER, Chairman Executive Committee on Awards."

A New York baking powder company, which did not even put in an appearance at the fair, now libelously assails Dr. Price's, and itself claims an award. Its assertions—due to malice, envy and disappointment, are utterly without foundation in fact. Its failure to compete is proved by the following concerning it:

"November 25, 1893.—The Price Baking Powder Co., Chicago—GENTLEMEN: Replying to your favor of the 25th will say that so far as the * * * (New York Powder) is concerned, neither the records of this department nor the official catalogue of the World's Columbian exposition show that the company referred to was an exhibitor, consequently they could not receive an award at the World's Fair."

J. S. BROWNING, Chief of Awards for Agriculture. The tests of baking powders at the fair, made by chemists of the United States Agricultural Department, showed Dr. Price's to be higher in leavening power, purity and general excellence than any other powder ever analyzed or passed upon by the government authorities. Intelligent people will not be misled by the libels of an unscrupulous competitor. Certainly the official report of the judges are more to be relied upon than the mere assertions of those who did not exhibit.

Both at the Chicago World's Fair and the California Midwinter Fair, Dr. Price's baking powder received the highest honors as the purest and best baking powder in the world.

A adequate law against libel by Congress would quickly dispose of falseifiers, who, from interested motives, assail it.

$95,917.41 TO BE RAISED BY TAX

The County Board's Report to That Effect Adopted.

Rock county will raise the sum of $95,917.41 by tax this year for state and county purposes. This sum will be divided as follows:

State tax.....$15,118.27

General county purposes and interest.....55,000.00

Soldiers' relief fund.....2,600.00

County superintendents of schools.....2,600.00

County school tax.....20,249.14

Total for state and county purposes.....$95,917.41

The above points were contained in a resolution and report made to the county board this afternoon by Supervisor Davis, chairman of the finance committee, which was adopted.

The board spent considerable time discussing the report of the committee on equalization, made by Chairman Mayhew, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Several amendments were offered but up to 4 o'clock no definite results had been reached.

Chrysanthemum Show.

All day long a throng of ladies and gentlemen could be seen entering the Linn Street Green House. The cause of this was a chrysanthemum show. The proprietors, Long & Hodson, had made great preparations for this show and they were well repaid for their efforts. They had on exhibition hundreds of chrysanthemums, all colors and sizes and some from the chrysanthemum show in Chicago. While those from Chicago were somewhat larger than those grown here, they were not, in our estimation, as pretty. Those grown at the Linn Street green house were as beautiful as anyone would care to see, and much more appropriate for their cost considerably less and are much nicer to wear. A great many orders were taken; the visitors were many and the ones admired as much as any there, were the George Childs and Dailledouze, the latter being all the rage at the present time, this specie took the premium at the chrysanthemum show in Chicago. Misses Long and Hodson are to be congratulated upon their show, as they gave one of the best ever given in this section, and proved to the satisfaction of all that they can furnish chrysanthemums just as pretty and much cheaper than outside parties. The show will continue tomorrow for the benefit of St. Agnes Guild.

Livery and Transient Barn.

A new livery, boarding, feed, sale, and transient barn has been opened at 115 East Milwaukee street. It is owned and operated by Joshua Crall, who is well and favorably known in Rock county. Mr. Crall has made many decided improvements in the building since it came into his possession. On the first floor he has as complete a livery barn as one would care to see, and plenty of room for transient customers who only desire to "put up" and feed. Mr. Crall makes this a special feature of the business, and farmers will find this one of the most complete, commodious and cheapest barns in the city to "feed at." Above the livery department, Mr. Crall has fitted up a flat of seven rooms with all the modern improvements, which are as "handily" arranged as any house in the city. The horses in the livery department are the best in the city, the buggies, sleighs, etc. the best and latest improved patterns, and the prices so reasonable that any and every one can become a patron. Mr. Crall will endeavor to treat everybody right, name prices that will invite patronage, and turn out rigs that will be the talk of the town. 115 East Milwaukee street is his number. He is there all the time.

EDGERTON HOME.

Tobacco Culture Was Introduced Into Wisconsin By Him—Was a Direct Lineal Descendant of Ralph de Pomeroy Who Helped William the Norman Conquer England.

Ralph Pomeroy the man who raised the first crop of tobacco grown in Wisconsin answered the final summons at his home in Edgerton yesterday.

Mr. Pomeroy was a lineal descendant of Ralph de Pomeroy who accompanied William, the Norman in the conquest of England and for which service he was knighted by the conqueror, and also represents the eighth generation in descent from Eldad Pomeroy who came from England in 1630 and was one of the founders of Dorchester, Mass. From him descended Medad, Joseph, and later on Nathaniel who was an aid on the staff of his uncle, General Seth Pomeroy in the Continental army. Thaddeus, of the seventh generation was the father of the subject of the sketch, who was born in Hartford, county, Massachusetts, March 22, 1814, which makes him eighty years of age. Mr. Pomeroy was reared upon his father's farm and was accustomed to the raising of tobacco at the tender age of twelve years. After receiving a common school education he went to Montgomery county, Ohio, in 1838 and his tobacco fields at Carlton were the first seen in that region.

Lived Here Forty-One Years.

He was married at Springfield, Mass., on September 3, 1852 to Miss Mary Wood of Long Meadow, Mass., and in the spring of 1853 came to Wisconsin, settling at Syene, Dane county, where Wisconsin's first crop of leaf was raised. In October of the same year he bought his present farm near Edgerton, where he has since resided.

Mr. Pomeroy was a whig in his youth and voted twice for William Henry Harrison for president. When the republican party succeeded the principles of the whig, partisan, the allegiance of Mr. Pomeroy went with the principles. He never sought political office and only once, when he was elected town supervisor, had he accepted one.

His family were Congregationalists, and he himself sustained that church and was a man of excellent character, enjoying the confidence of all who knew him. He was a brother of W. M. Pomeroy of this city and Andrew Pomeroy of Fulton, and leaves besides three children, W. T. Pomeroy, Mrs. Milford Pelton and Orrin Ralph Pomeroy. The funeral will be held at the home near Edgerton at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon.

A Disputed Case.
Many persons dispute the question as to whether or not baldness caused either by disease or neglect can be cured. In deciding the question allow us to say that most cases are cured, while others can not. Only a specialist of years of experience can tell this.
